AT THE HEART OF ANCIENT CIVILIZATIONS

Piraeus Port, the largest passenger port in Europe, serving approximately 20 million passengers every year, is located at the heart of the Mediterranean experience with access to multiple tourist attractions and excursions. The Port of Piraeus, at the south east end of the continental European Union, is located at the same area with the ancient Athenian port, which at its peak in 5th century BC, was the most important trade center of then known world. In fact, when cruise passengers disembark, they can see the ancient protective walls of that period. The cruise terminals of the port are at a comfortable walking distance from the city of Piraeus and the metro station. The market center of Athens and the famous Parthenon are easily accessible, within 30 minutes by metro.

WHAT PASSENGERS SAY ABOUT US...

It is truly mind boggling to see places that you have only read about. So hard to describe the beauty. (June, 2017)

Had always wanted to visit Athens for the magnificent ruins and my long wait was well rewarded. Beautiful ancient city. The Acropolis is amazing with lovely views. (June, 2017)

Always a fabulous port to visit with close proximity to Athens. Lovely cafe's and nice little market and shopping area. (Apr. 2017)

One of my favourite ports: cruise terminal B is brand new and top notch. Once you made it to the city centre, you are in a lively metropolis full of history, great shopping and dining. (Oct. 2017)
